

JDLink™ Connectivity

You can't be everywhere at once, but with a JDLink™ modem, you can always be connected to the things that matter most, no matter where you are.

With a JDLink connection, you can say goodbye to the laborious task of manually entering your farm data. No more missing information or mistakes.

Connecting your machines with JDLink gives you hands-free control of your data management. Whatever you put into the ground, the machine wirelessly sends that data directly to John Deere Operations Center™, saving you the time and headache of manually entering your data.

As your fleet grows, JDLink makes it easy to manage machine performance and utilization, so you can get the most out of your investment:

- Check machine location
- See location history
- View and report on historical performance
- Compare machine performance across your fleet
- Receive fast dealer action via remote support

Any machine... any age.

The JDLink M Modem brings you the value of connectivity to machines in your operation regardless of brand, type, or age*. The M modem is easy-to-install and affordable while delivering valuable location information, machine performance and health data

*Only for compatible machines in your Organization and in supported countries.

EQUIPMENT + DECISION MAKERS + DATA

With JDLink, you're always connected to:

Your Machines – Stay on top of your equipment's health and productivity. With access to monitor machines from anywhere, you can prevent or minimize work interruptions, solve problems, and keep business running strong. By passing data from one machine to another, you can take time and guesswork out of jobs, ensuring consistently excellent results throughout your operation.

Your Operation – Gain confidence with the data you're collecting every day in John Deere Operations Center™. As you gather information from your operation, you get ready access to past performance, current progress, and future plans, so you can take confident steps toward greater efficiency, productivity, and profits.

Your Team – Give your team the information and direction they need to do jobs accurately and on time. When you are connected, you are ready to handle the unexpected, guide others, adjust plans, and solve problems.

Your Dealer – You get a peace of mind because you have proactive, remote dealer support that helps you get maximum value from your John Deere investments. Your dealer can personalize your support experience with remote machine health monitoring, service and maintenance, as well as insights and training.

Your Advisors – Easily exchange information with advisors who help you make decisions. With your permission, you can give them a clear view of what's happening in your operation, allowing them to offer even more accurate, reliable advice.

John Deere – Know that you are running your operation with quality, durability, and innovation using John Deere tools and technologies that are fit for your purpose today and getting smarter all the time, because John Deere learns and innovates from a global network of connected customers.
